Basic Policy

- We will overcome the restrictions brought about by the great earthquake—such as by restoring economic circulation as soon as possible—in a sequential and steady manner. At the same time, we will strengthen initiatives for achieving new growth and restore the growth potential of the Japanese economy.
- The need to ensure the sustainability of public finances and social security and maintain confidence in such institutions, which had been major issues from before, has increased all the more because of the great earthquake. As such, we will promote sound initiatives for achieving this.
